The DIMMER VIEW

The Deception in SS Taxes

There is a growing need for state and federal governments to make better arrangements for the withholding of your tax payments. There is an even greater need for honesty in the application of the employment fees' rules.

One of the first steps in resolving a part of the problem would be turning over to the banks which cash the paychecks, the responsibility for taking out and turning in the employment fee paid jointly by the worker and his employer.

Social Security is the euphemism for employment fee and presently the employer has the burden of properly withholding and submitting it within deadline limitations or suffering the pain of penalty—both cash and liberty.

It would be so much simpler to let the banks do it. Social Security has no dependency allowances. It would be simple for the vaunted computers the banks now possess. It would only require that a person write his Social Security number on a stub attached to the paycheck.

It would be, in our great hopes, the first step to letting banks make all paycheck deductions. As it now stands, the employer is the heavy. He takes out money that rightfully belong to the worker. The worker looks at his net check and holds the employer in low esteem because the net pay is being cut more and more.

Few workers concern themselves with the gross pay. It means little to them. When he negotiates with his boss for more money, he invariably refers to "take-home" pay—and properly so.

In addition to relieving the employer of the penalty ridden responsibility of taking out the tax, and of making him less the "meanie" who takes from hungry families, it might eventually allow him to reduce his payroll section by a person or two, thus making more funds available to pay for other obligations.

This diatribe comes to mind as we give thought to the Social Security deductions specifically as well as the entire withholding racket.

Social Security tax jumped from 9.6 percent to 10.4 percent last year. One half of this amount is deducted by his employer before he gets his paycheck. The other half is deducted "after" he receives his wages. Actually, the worker never sees any part of the money; the whole amount is deposited by the company in a special account which is then turned over to the Federal government.

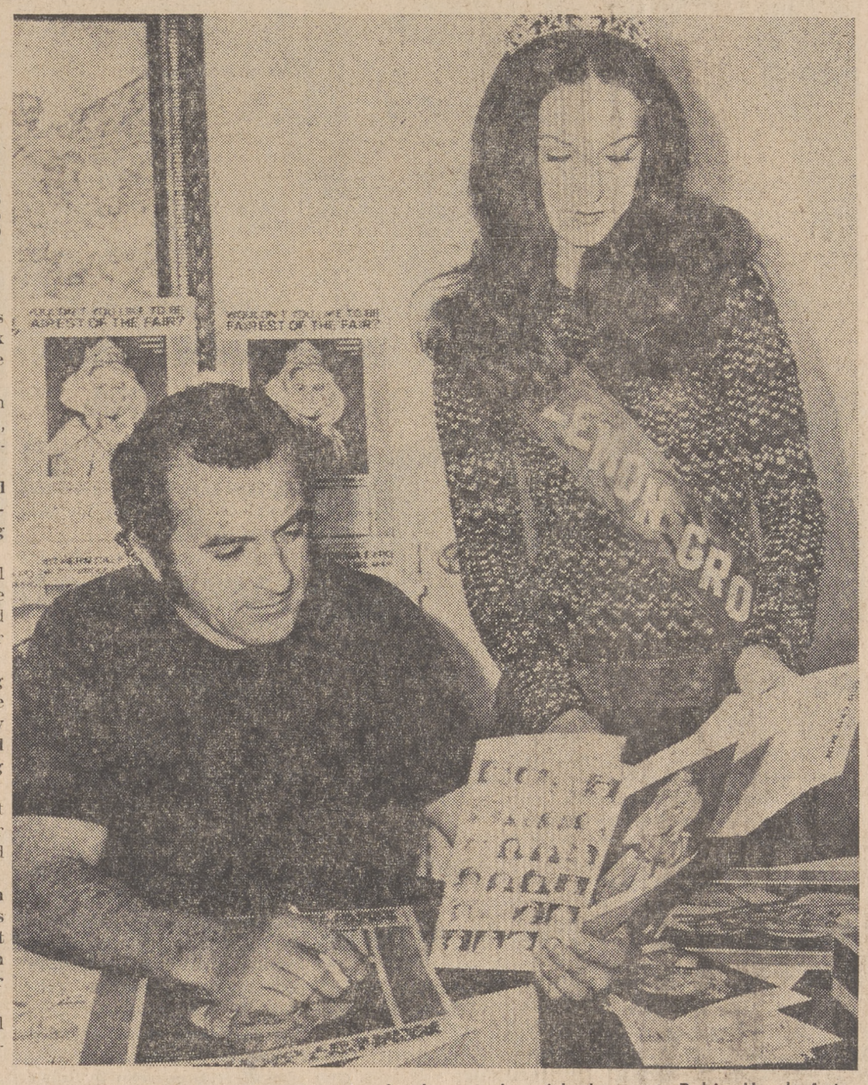

The Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) alleges that the company pays half and the employee pays half. This is a cruel deception. There is not a single business establishment, large or small, that possesses a magic money tree or which has authority to print nice, new dollar bills. All of the money paid out by each business firm, whether in the form of wages, taxes, rent, utilities and other operating expenses must come from the earned income of the employees. If employees don't earn it, the company can't pay it—period.

If the company brings in a little more than it pays out in combined expenses and salaries, then it will make a profit. But if it brings in less money than that expended—including "both halves" of the Social Security tax, then that company goes broke.

Thus, a worker in the $5,000 bracket is now trapped for $520 against $480 the year before. One half of this is reported on his paycheck, but the other half is simply turned over to the government by the employer without anything being said about it.

The biggest increase taps the wage earner in the $9,000 bracket which increased from $718 to $936.

It may be a while longer—and after a few more taxes—before tax bookkeeping is handed to the bank which cashes the paycheck. But as long as we have Social Security tax, the Government should be honest about what the actual cost is to the wage earner.

Board Changes Sutton Contract, OK's 'Walk For Development'

The Lemon Grove School District Board of Trustees met Monday night and approved student participation in the "Walk for Development", approved a revision in the superintendent's employment contract, and heard reports on the school's proposed warehouse.

At a meeting two weeks ago, trustees endorsed Project Concern's "Walk for Mankind", which would allow the sponsoring organization to distribute "pledge cards" among students. Under the program, those students who wish seek sponsors, who will pay any given amount for each mile walked by the student "walker".

The students then walk along a set course as far as they wish and collect money from their sponsors for each mile walked. The money is used by Project Concern for charitable projects.

After trustees approved the Project Concern participation, the district was contacted by the United Nations Association American Freedom from Hunger Foundation, seeking endorsement of its "Walk for Development."

Monday night, the board approved the United Nations Association project, which will be held April 15, two weeks before the Project Concern walk.

Neither program requires students to participate, but merely allows literature and entry forms to be distributed to student body organizations at district schools.

Anther item of note was the revision of Dr. Robert Suttons' contract for the position of district superintendent.

At the last meeting, trustees approved Sutton as the replacement for retiring superintendent Byron L. Netzley, effective July 1, with Sutton's contract calling for a four-year term at $26,500 per year.

The contract was revised so that it could be done away after one year, if mutually agreeable, and rewritten. It is anticipated that the revision was made to allow for increased salary, if desired.

The document is in contrast to one granted James Runge, who replaced retiring La Mesa- Spring Valley School District Superintendent Glenn Murdock last year.

Runge's contract, also on a four-year term basis, does not feature the one-year arrangement, although his $28,754 salary is more lucrative.

Also at Monday's meeting, trustees were given a report from Paul Reynolds, assistant superintendent for business services, on the proposed warehouse.

The preliminary drawings of the structure were presented and some discussion took place on soil conditions. It was determined that a soil analysis may not be mandatory.

In routine matters, trustees approved bid specifications for custodial, curriculum, and art supplies, heard a report on CIF Insurance action, and considered hiring additional help under the P.E.P. program.

La Mesan Seeks County Clerk Post

Jim Stieringer, 31, a contracts manager for a San Diego contractor, has filed his intentions to compete for the office of County Clerk, a post now held by Jesse Osuna. Osuna was appointed to the post by the Board of Supervisors following Bud James being promoted to another position.

Stieringer lives in La Mesa at 7646 Parkway dr. and was graduated from Grossmont high school.

"Twice within the past three years the Cunty Supervisors have sought voter approval of a plan to amend the County Charter to provide for the appointment of various Department Heads who are now elected. Both times the voters have voted an overwhelming no to this proposal," he said.

"However, it is a fact that through a series of resignations, deaths, and transfers, 4 of the 7 Department Heads attained their initial incumbency by appointment rather than by election. My opponent, a beneficiary of this system, was appointed to his office less than 4 months ago. He will appear on the ballot as an incumbent even though the electorate has yet to cast its first vote for him.

"My candidacy represents an alternative to this system. The voters can, by casting their ballots for me, assert their own judgment," he said.

Learn Spanish the Easy Way

Hardison's Telespanish

By JAMES HARDISON

"Iba," pronounced "EE-bah," is a very helpful word in Spanish which is equivalent to "was going" in English. With "iba" we may construct short phrases like "El iba a comer." (He was going to eat.), "Ella iba a descansar." (She was going to rest.) and "Adonde iba usted?" (Where were you going?).

Interestingly enough "iba" may also be used with the first person pronoun "yo" (I). This may be seen in phrases such as "Yo iba a comprar una camisa." (I was going to buy a shirt.), "Yo iba a presentar una idea." (I was going to present an idea.), and "Yo iba a consultar con usted." (I was going to consult with you.).

"Ibamos" is the plural form which suggests "We are going." With this form we may construct phrases like "Ibamos a quejar del servicio." (We were going to complain about the service.), "Ibamos a quedar para otra semana." (We were going to stay for another week.) and "Ibamos a convencer a los de mas." (We were going to convince the rest of them.).

"Iban" may be used with the pronouns "ellos" (they) and "ustedes" (you). This may be demonstrated in phrases like "Ellos iban a considerar el problema." (They were going to consider the problem.), "Como iban a resolver el conflicto?" (How were they going to resolve the conflict?), and "No iban ustedes a venir a la junta?" (Weren't all of you going to come to the meeting?).

"Iba," "ibamos," and "iban" may easily become an important part of your Spanish speaking vocabulary. In that interest the following phrases are designed for your learning pleasure and may be heard when you dial 276-2762 on your telephone. A native voice guides you in the correct pronunciation when you call. You will hear the individual words pronounced separately and then the complete phrase. A pause is provided for you to pronounce the same words and phrases.

IMPORTANT PHRASES:

Say "Adonde iba usted?" (ah-DOHN-deh EE-bah oo-STEHD)

Pat Kelly, of Lakeside, and president of a civil engineering firm said he was staking his claim in the direction of the future progress and development of San Diego County when he filed his papers as a candidate for the County Board of Supervisors in the 2nd District. He will be running with a wide range of contenders and, from the number of contenders involved, the race will undoubtedly be a real donnybrook.

Kelly, 54, said, "The most important issues involved are: the improvement of supervisorial attitudes from self-grandeur to concentrating on better government management. To put it more plainly, quit living in self-splendor in the office to which they are elected and start concentrating on the duties of that office;

"The supervisors' mismanagement of monies which has cost the taxpayers an added financial burden of more than 100% since 1968. A good example is in voting themselves a 65% pay raise, while giving the other 9,000 County Employees a 5% pay raise;

"Controlled, but continuing community and economical growth to be provided by greater government-community-developer communications, and not by hysterical moratoriums — legal delays — which are nothing but red

SOMETHING TO DO — Junior high school studens in Lemon Grove have had something to do with themselves lately, thanks to the Lemon Grove Youth Center operation, which affords youngsters an opportunity to play basketball, ping-pong, pool, watch tv, or just "rap". The center, located on School lane, is in sore need of funds to continue operating. A fund drive is currently going on which enables the youngsters, through the sale of newspaper subscriptions, to make contributions of their own to the center.

$100 Donation Made To LG Youth Center

The Lemon Grove Youth Center project received new hope this week as financial help came at a time that matters appeared grim.

The Center, which is a meeting place for 100-150 youngsters in their early teens, had run out of funds several weeks ago. The hand-to-mouth existence was not satisfactory because the equipment had begun to deteriorate, the supervisor was only partly paid, and there was no money for material for the youngsters' craft projects.

This newspaper then offered to help. If the kids would sell subscriptions to this newspaper for $4 a year, $2.50 of what they collected would be given to the Center. That would raise some immediate cash. Those people who were to become interested could be depended upon to keep it going after that.

Mrs. Barbara Hollowell sent in $10 cash which was handed to the Center. Then Leo Cochran, operator of Pi-Tape, an engineering firm on North ave. in Lemon Grove, brought in $100 which gave the project a further lift. Then subscriptions started coming in. With this week's list the total had reached 95. Part of them were sold by a professional sales person and $2 of the total is given as commission.

At the Center, which is open on Fridays 3-10 and Saturdays 10 a.m.-10 p.m., the youngsters, most of them with problems of maturing, play pool, pingpong, make and hang posters, listen to hi-fi or watch teevee. But mostly they sit and rap — away from the establishment which has provided pressures they are yet to learn to cope with.

A continuing story will be published weekly with a financial report as enough money is acquired to make it worthwhile. Proceeds are given to the Center only after the subscriber pays.

Exploratory Work Program On Tap For High School Students

When the seniors in the rossmont district's eight igh schools graduate this une, more than half of them ill be looking for jobs rath-r than planning on going to ollege. And most will not ave an employable skill.

An even more depressing thought is that most won't even know what they want to do, according to Don Gilmore, career development specialist for the Grossmont Union High School District.

"Only about 40 percent of our graduates go to college. For years, we've had a situation where 60 percent of our graduates couldn't do anything after graduation," he said.

A teacher for 11 years, Gilmore feels he is in a position to "influence the content of education and make it relevant to students." He has recently been hired by the district to supplement the career development specialists on each high school campus by seeking out and developing positions in the community for the Exploratory Work Experience program.

The program is the latest development in the newly emerging career development field. Its purpose is very simple: To allow a student an opportunity to work under real conditions at a variety of jobs he thinks he might be interested in, in order to discover what really appeals to him.

The district has already come a long way with work experience and vocational programs, according to Gilmore, but he asks, "What's the use of a student studying to learn entry level skills, if he finds he really doesn't like the job once he starts working?"

The exploratory program also benefits those students who wish to attend college, he said, pointing out that often a student selects a career which requires college, only to find out years later that the job wasn't what they thought.

"Why go through four years of high school, and four years of college, then get out and find out this isn't what he thought it would be?" Gilmore asked.

The exploratory program will allow a student to sample many different jobs prior to beginning his more formal training, and arrive at some type of decision before entering the vocational program or college.

Matador Win Skein Snapped By Barons

By Paul Stark

Mount Miguel High School saw its three-game winning streak end last Friday when Bonita Vista took a 6-2 decision.

Earlier in the week the Matadors beat Poway 10-3 and Castle Park 3-1.

The Barons won the game when they scored four runs in the fourth inning. With one out, Ryan Harris singled to center and was sent to third when pitcher Doug McGowan singled to left. Ryan scored the first run of the inning when Jim Nelson looped a single to right.

Mike Hooper walked to load the bases and Jim Cord came through with a clutch single to left to drive in McGowan and Nelson. The final run of the inning came when Dave Raglond hit what seemed to be the last out of the inning to second baseman Jess Jenner but the ball went under his glove for an error.

The Barons opened the scoring in the first inning when Nelson led off with a sharp single to left. He scored from second when Bruce Hawkins looped a single to center which got past Mike Ursillo, who was trying for a diving catch.

The Matadors in the top of the third tied it up 1-1. With one out Steve Long singled to center and Phil Williamson sent him home with a booming triple to left.

In the bottom of the inning the Barons scored their second run. Dave Raglond, with two out, singled home Mike Hooper who had doubled to center earlier in the inning.

In the top of the fourth the Matadors tied it up 2-2. Buster Ledesma led off with a single. Gary Osberg sent Ledesma to second on a sacrifice and Bill Cohen doubled to left.

On Monday the Matadors used a ten run fourth inning to erase a 3-0 Poway lead for a 10-3 victory.

With the score 3-3 Buster Ledesma drove Ted Updike in with a sharp single to left for the winning run of the game.

On Tuesday the Matadors and the Castle Park Trojans had to battle for nine innings before Buster Ledesma came through with the clutch two-run double for a 3-1 victory.

Mike Ursillo led off the ninth inning with a single to left, but Bill Cohen forced him at second. Ted Updike singled up the middle to send Cohen to third and Ledesma stroked a double to left for the winning runs.

Tomorrow the Matadors will play their final preseason game when they travel to play the El Cajon Braves with Terry Holum on the mound. On Tuesday the Matadors will open season play when they journey to play the Granite Hills Eagles with Steve Long on the mound. Both games will start at 3 p.m.

Russia and the U.S. have signed an agreement to work together in cancer and heart disease research.

'Added Attractions' Listed For Padres 1972 Season

Three fireworks shows, a special baseball matinee for businessmen and a revival of the popular Bat Night headline an appealing schedule of 16 promotions announced by the Padres for the 1972 season.

The Padres have scheduled the first of this season's fireworks presentations on April 15, the second home date of the year as part of an Opening Weekend celebration. A fireworks show last July 3 drew a paid crowd of 39,105, the largest attendance for a baseball game in San Diego Stadium.

In addition to Bat Night on May 19, the Padres will present the popular Helmet Night on June 23.

Several new and attractive events have been added to this year's expanded promotion schedule, promising special treats to Padre fans.

The promotions include razors and blades to commemorate Father's Day, the opportunity to receive precious stones on Diamond Night, and Super-Sundae-Sunday when free ice cream sundaes will be given.

The Padres have scheduled a 12:45 p.m. start for their May 3 game against the Expos, anticipating that the event will be especially popular among businessmen who desire a mid-week break at the ball game.

A Camera Day has been arranged when fans will be able to take pictures on the field of their favorite players. Also, special nights for civic clubs and organizations have been established, including Kiwanis Night and the American Field Service Day.

At the same time, the Padres have retained in their promotions schedule such popular events as Team Photo Night and Fan Appreciation Night.

Local Man Graduates From Safety Course

A Lemon Grove man was among 27 new firemen who were graduated from a two-day course in radiological safety last week at the San Diego County Civil Defense Training Center at Gillespie Field, according to W. B. Marty, Administrator of the Civil Defense Office.

John Bardsley, of 2518 Cypress ave., Lemon Grove was among those who undertook the training program, which is part of a regular six-week course at Miramar College.

The radiological safety course includes training in the use of special instruments that can detect radiation from radioactive materials used in medicine, research and industry. Peacetime accidents are a serious public hazard that require emergency control measures by fire departments.

Dance Program Due

Monte Vista High School will present "Dance Reflections," a modern dance program, tonight through Saturday at 6 p.m. in the Monarch gym.

The program will feature abstracts from such musicals as "My Fair Lady", "Sweet Charity", and "Fiddler on the Roof", as well as modern jazz dances.

UP IN SMOKE — Mt. Miguel High School high jumpers will be practicing in sawdust thanks to several children playing with matches that sent the Matador "porta-pit" up in smoke last week at the school. The "porta-pit", constructed of scraps of foamed rubber in nylon netting, was valued at about $200. The fire, which was quickly extinguished by the Spring Valley Fire Department, occurred last Monday afternoon. (Mark Coffin photo)

M.V. Blanks C.V. Spartans

By Tom Blatter

The Monte Vista Monarch baseball team, led by pitcher Rick Baker, blanked the Chula Vista Spartans, 2-0, in a non-league contest held on the losers' field.

The junior southpaw held the Spartans to three hits, while striking out ten and not walking a batter. His performance was quite a difference from the same Rick Baker that pitched last year for the Monarchs. Rick's record was 0-6 with an earned run average close to 6.00.

But this time out Rick threw only 74 pitches, of which only 17 were out of the strike zone. Baker has always had an excellent fast ball, but now he has developed a fine slider.

The Monarchs scored their runs in the second and sixth innings. Baker and Gil Ninness were the leading hitters for the locals, as each collected two singles and batted in a run.

Swimmers Win

The Monte Vista swimming squad, with Brant Bass and Kirk Peterson leading the way, dunked the Granite Hills Eagles, 67-27, last Friday afternoon at Gunther Pool.

Bass and Peterson were the meet's only double winners, with Brant capturing the 100-yard freestyle in a time of 54.1 seconds and the 200-yard individual medley clocked in 2:20. Kirk took victories in the 200-yard freestyle in 1:56.1 and the 100-yard butterfly timed in 57.3 seconds.

Playoff Fever Grips Gulls In Friday Fray

The San Diego Gulls, back in the thick of the battle for second place and a playoff spot in the Western Hockey League standings, start a busy and important weekend of action tomorrow night when they host the Portland Buckaroos at the Sports Arena. Faceoff is at 8 p.m.

Following the game against Portland, the Gulls will travel to Denver for a big game on Saturday night and continue on to Portland for a Sunday evening rematch against the Buckaroos.

The Gulls met the Seattle Totems at the Sports Arena last night, and will play host to the Totems again next Wednesday night, March 22.

The Gulls carried a four-game unbeaten streak into last night's battle against the Totems — and that is their longest streak of successes since they strung together six straight wins in late November.

Their streak of three wins and a tie in four games gave the Gulls a five-point margin over Salt Lake in the battle for fourth place and pulled them back into a strong position to challenge Portland and Phoenix for second place.

At the start of this week's activity, the Gulls trailed both Portland and Phoenix by four points in the battle for second spot. All three teams had played 59 games going into last night's action.

Writers to Honor Enzo Hernandez

Enzo Hernandez, who plugged a leak in the infield and introduced the stolen base to the San Diego Padres in 1971, was justly honored for his efforts.

The San Diego Chapter of the Baseball Writers' Association of America named the Venezuelan shortstop the Padres' rookie of the year for last season.

He will be honored Tuesday night, April 4, when the BBWAA hosts its annual dinner honoring the Padres, who open their National League season April 6 in San Francisco.

Tickets for the gala affair are $20 each, with tables of 10 or in smaller groups also available. The event will be held in the Convention Center, Town and Country Hotel, with an all-star cast of baseball celebrities on hand.

The 23-year-old Hernandez came to the Padres with pitcher Tom Phoebus for pitcher Pat Dobson before the 1970 season, and he solved their shortstop problem, "for the next 12 years," judged president Buzzie Bavasi.

Hernandez played in 143 games, third highest on the team, and he set a club record with 21 stolen bases. "What's significant to me is that he was caught stealing only four times," said manager Preston Gomez.

Hernandez batted .222 but his average was higher than .250 most of the first half of the year. An all-year diet of baseball, beginning in the Venezuelan winter leagues, tired him in August and September.

Tickets for the dinner may be obtained by enclosing a check to P.O. Box 6461, San Diego, Calif., 92106, or by contacting Rick Smith, dinner chairman, at 234-7111.

A tax on dogs, ranging as high as $36 a year, is being considered at Hamburg, Germany.

Two First Places Won By Matadors

The Mt. Miguel Matador track squad, cashing in on good distance talent, brought home a pair of first place medals from the National City JC Relays held Saturday at Sweetwater High School.

Mt. Miguel claimed victory in the distance medley relay and in the open mile run despite poor conditions on the Sweetwater track.

The Matadors distance medley relay squad, held together by tough Joe Stubbs, not only beat all competition in Division One, but had the best mark of the day for all five divisions, which are based on school enrollment. The local team turned in a 10:37.9 clocking to edge second place Monte Vista by 5½ seconds.

Rick Debus, Mt. Miguel's ace in the mile, took an easy victory in his event, turning in an excellent time of 4:26.6.

Monte Vista took eighth place among Division One schools by taking home a pair of fifth place medals to go with its second place medal in the distance medley. Fifth place medals came in the 120-yard high hurdles and the discus.

Mt. Miguel also added a fifth place medal, a fourth place medal and one tie for fifth place. Medals were claimed in the sprint medley relay, the pole vault, and the high jump.

Griffin Golfers Even Record With 47-7 Win

Grossmont College's golf team evened its conference record March 6 when it defeated a weak Chaffey team 47-7 at Singing Hills. Three Griffins, George Avgerenos, Dan Brennan and John Keimig, led the way by shooting 78's.

Action this week features a home game against San Bernardino. Coach Dick McMinn feels his team has enough overall depth to win the tilt, especially on the home links.

A new museum has been opened in the Bahamas for displaying sea shells, rare coins and other island curiosities.

Track Meet at Balboa

Veteran Sheriff's Deputy Seeks Supervisor's Post

Law enforcement personnel, senior citizens, organized labor, public servants and young athletes will find a champion in William D. "Bill" Clements, 48, in his race for supervisor in the 2nd District.

Clements, a 23-year veteran sheriff's lieutenant now serving as general manager of the San Diego County Deputy Sheriffs Assn., has tossed his hat into the ring "based on a life of public service and a desire to provide the 2nd District with a 'people's' candidate."

Clements stressed his legislative and administrative experience and his deep involvement in retirement systems, and welfare and pension programs as the basis of his value to the voters.

"I've been dedicated to serving my people in law enforcement, now let this experience serve the county," Clements declared.

Clements outlined a five-point program:

Lowered county taxes via realistic welfare programs,

Opposition to SANCOG and super-governments,

Elimination of frills and waste in county expenses,

Development of mass transit based on parity service,

Planned growth emphasizing environmental protection.

Clements, a Republican, stated he anticipates as much support from Democrats as Republicans, claiming the county office is "no place for partisan politics."

Clements listed his professional background: 1941 San Diego High School graduate; U. S. Army Air Corps, World War II; Peace Officer Standards in Training Commission of California, advanced certificate of training; LaSalle Institute, one year completed toward LL.B.; San Diego County Sheriff's Department, 1947-1971; San Diego County Deputy Sheriffs Assn., general manager since March, 1971.

Outside activities: San Diego Deputy Sheriffs Assn. — Board of Directors, Retirement Committee president, Legislative Committee chairman; Peace Officers Research Assn. of California — Retirement Committee state chairman, State Legislative Committee, San Diego Legislative Committee chairman, State Board of Directors (representing San Diego and Imperial Counties); California Peace Officers Assn. — Welfare and Pensions Committee vice chairman; County Sheriff's Department — Departmental Safety Officer, Traffic Safety Review Committee.

Community activities: Little League and Colt League baseball, Board of Directors and coach; Pop Warner football, coach; Grossmont College Football Booster Club, current president.

Clements lives in La Mesa, with his family.
